
Front Cover Design Manga Designers Lab Inc.

The front cover design was drafted and designed by Manga Designers Lab Inc. The design expresses the concept of “Convergence Knowledge”, in other words, generating vitality in knowledge through the comprehensive use of diverse knowledge, including the “knowledge” in the natural sciences and the “knowledge” in the humanities and social sciences. The design depicts the vitality of knowledge that springs out when researchers from different fields gather and connect with each other. On the back cover, dandelion seeds are shown flying in the air depicting how new values are successively created from this vitality, which spread into the future.
