YOUNG LEADERS' PROGRAM IN BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION CURRICULUM GUIDLINES

I Basic Concepts

1. The YLP in Business Administration is built around the vision to seek the "Best of the Two Worlds" in management methods, one that was developed in Japan and the other developed in Europe and the United States. Its objectives include learning about "Knowledge Management" and "Operations Research" led by Japan, and also "Entrepreneurship" and "Corporate Finance," fields in which the West is the current leader. The ultimate aim is to construct a globalized universal management model.
2. The YLP will be a forum where future business leaders of Asian and other countries can interact with students from Japan, Europe, and the United States. The learning method will incorporate case studies, exercises, simulations, and experiments which are popular in the West, as well as small-group seminars with professors, which are Japanese strong points. In addition, the students will go out into the real business world by visiting companies, utilizing the latest technologies, participating as business professionals, and other such types of action learning.
3. A one-year MBA program has been established, that follows global standards with graduation requirements similar to the two-year MBA program. YLP students in Business Administration fall under the one-year MBA program and are required to take a minimum of 54 credits in order to meet graduation requirements.

II Participants

It is necessary for the participants to have at least 2 years of work experience. This work experience can be in a wide range of fields, but has to be full-time. The classes will all be in English, so it is necessary to have a good command of the language. Selection will be based on an overall evaluation of a candidate's work experience, academic aptitude (as measured, for example, by the GMAT, GRE or other aptitude test).
